

Social data science

Arkaitz Zubiaga

- Computational and data science methods to analyse social phenomena through (often large-scale) datasets
- Assessing and mitigating online harms, including hate speech, misinformation, biases and inequality
- Computational journalism to assist both journalists and end users for
  - fact-checking
  - finding information sources, e.g. eyewitnesses
  - development of dashboard to assist with newsgathering